Gilligan Pledges Tax Standstill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan Wednesday night promised no new taxes in the next two years, but unveiled a budget that calls for more than a $1.6 billion increase in state spending.

Gilligan, in his state of the state message to a joint session of the legislature, shoved hard for an ethics bill for public officials.

"The public confidence must, and shall, be restored," Gilligan said. "We in government must demonstrate, even at some personal sacrifice that we will no longer tolerate the moral and ethical mistakes of the past."

Gilligan, in his message, didn't dwell long on the $9.7 billion budget, unveiled to legislators and newsmen earlier in the day. He spoke mainly on increases in state services.

A packed House chamber—with the gallery filled mostly with state employees, their friends and wives—interrupted Gilligan with applause some 30 times.

The speech was telecast statewide over an educational television network. Gilligan talked 41 minutes.

The budget for the two years beginning July 1 will total $9,792 million, an increase of $1,644.8 million over the current $8,147.8 million budget.

In addition to the code of ethics proposal he has already introduced into the House, Gilligan dwelled on the need to reorganize the executive branch of government and election reform.

Reaction to the speech was along party lines, with Democrats generally hailing it and Republicans contending he said nothing new.

The loudest applause of the evening came when Gilligan asked for new occupational safety standards "where a worker can find a job, can work in security and safety, can become the most productive worker in the world and can look forward to a secured and dignified retirement when his working years are over."

Gilligan said his record budget "provides that we live within our current anticipated revenues. It calls for no new or overly ambitious programs."

Passage of ethics and election reform legislation, he said, "will, I am confident, bring to the people of Ohio open and honest government."

The governor also asked the legislature for tools to reorganize the executive branch of government "subject to legislative veto."

The governor promised welfare reforms, saying the state had waited too long for the federal government to solve the problem.

"We can wait no longer without courting financial disaster," he said. "Reform legislation, he said, would be put before the legislature "in the months just ahead."

It will be designed, he added, to tighten administration of the program at the county level.

Gilligan sounded somewhat like his predecessor, Republican James Rhodes, when he stressed the need for jobs to bolster the Ohio economy.

He promised "a sustained statewide effort to provide employment opportunities for everyone who is seeking a job."

Lt. Gov. John Brown, a Republican who introduced the Democratic governor, smiled when Gilligan said industry had expanded in Ohio during the last two years. Brown sat on one side of Gilligan and House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, on the other.

Gilligan said "innovative programs"—including a businessman's ombudsman—had brought about the impetus to economic growth.

"In the past two years, more new businesses have opened and more plants have been expanded in Ohio than in any other state in the union," he said.

Gilligan promised public housing legislation and law that would establish "a fair and equitable" relationship between landlords and tenants.

He said the budget continued advances begun in the fields of education, mental health, corrections, environment, consumer protection and civil service compensation.

"To succeed we will have to develop the highest possible levels of cooperation between the three branches of our state government as well as a new working partnership with local government and with the federal establishment," Gilligan said, adding, "but I believe it can be done."

Noting that Ohio in 170 years had moved from a wilderness to an industrial state, he said Ohioans were "justly proud" of what they achieved and confident of their ability to develop an even greater future.

"I am proud to be an Ohioan," he concluded. "I am very proud to have the honor of serving as governor of Ohio."

FRESH WATER—Mrs. Leonard Davis 410 Brown St., samples the first glass of city water to the recently annexed Isaac, Sunnyside and Moats Additions. City Utilities Director Charles Taylor said about six houses will be connected to the water lines today. Enjoying the water are, from the left: Dr. John Bowers, utility board member;

Mayor Frank Barnhill, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Harold Wynkoop who will be the second recipient of city water, and Taylor. Homeowners in the area sought annexation, which was given, in order to get city water. Many of the individual wells which have been the water source are badly polluted.

Kissinger, Tho Slate Final Talks

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida White House and Hanoi jointly announced today that top-level Paris peace talks will be resumed Tuesday "for the purpose of completing the text of an agreement."

Emphasizing that he was reading language approved by both the United States and North Vietnam, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said:

"Dr. Henry Kissinger will resume private negotiations with special adviser Le Duc Tho and Minister Xuan Thuy on Jan. 23, 1973 for the purpose of completing the text of an agreement." Ziegler indicated Kissinger would leave Washington Monday for Paris and said he could not predict how long the envoy might remain.

Asked if this would be the final meeting of Kissinger and Tho, Ziegler said, "the announcement will have to speak for itself."

Ziegler said the United States would have no comment on the negotiations "until a final agreement is reached."

At another point, he said: "We are interested in ending this war as soon as possible and ending it through negotiations."

Asked if a cease-fire might take effect in Indochina prior to completion of the promised peace agreement, Ziegler said "there has been an awful lot of speculation along that line," but

Weather

Increasing cloudiness and mild today, high mid 60s. Cloudy and warm tonight and tomorrow with showers likely, low tonight near 40, high tomorrow near 60. 20 per cent chance of rain today, 60 per cent chance tonight and tomorrow. High Wednesday, 63; low, 40.

added he was not prepared to "address that speculation" whether it is right or wrong.

Ziegler also announced that Army Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., now in Bangkok as part of a Southeast Asia tour to discuss the Paris talks, would return to Saigon Saturday and meet again with President Nguyen Van Thieu. He said he did not know whether Haig would return to Washington prior to Kissinger's departure.

Winter Storm Hammers Far West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A major winter storm slapped the Far West with wind, rain and snow today while springlike mildness prevailed across much of the nation from the Rockies to the Atlantic.

Temperatures in the 40s and 50s were common during the night in most of the eastern two-thirds of the country.

Storm warnings were issued for the Pacific Coast from Oregon south, and gale warnings flew along the Washington coast.

Travel advisories were out for the northern and eastern mountains of California, where locally heavy rain and snow, propelled by gale-force winds, made travel hazardous. Some flooding was expected.

Scattered light rain fell from Oklahoma to Nebraska, moving into Missouri and Iowa. Dense fog over Minnesota and northern Wisconsin restricted visibility to near zero.

Haig Spreads News Of Viet Peace Plan

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. left Saigon today after two days of talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu on the new peace agreement draft worked out last week by Henry Kissinger and Le Duc Tho.

Before returning to Washington, Haig was visiting Phnom Penh, Vientiane and Bangkok to brief the governments of Cambodia, Laos and Thailand on the present status of the peace negotiations.

Thieu was reported to still have reservations about the protocols or technical instruments to bring the peace agreement into being, and some political matters also appeared still unresolved. Despite this, Thieu's foreign minister, Tran Van Lam said in an interview published Wednesday that "peace is very near."

Lam's comment seemed to indicate that the remaining issues could be resolved quickly.

Haig's conferences with Thieu appeared to clear the way for another round of meetings in Paris next week between Kissinger and Tho, possibly followed by the initialing of the peace agreement.

From Saigon, Haig flew first to Phnom Penh and met with President Lon Nol.

In Bangkok, U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger told the American Chamber of Commerce that U.S. military strength in Thailand will be scaled down when the Vietnam War ends, but sufficient strength will be maintained to prevent violations of the peace agreement. There are now 49,000 American troops stationed in Thailand, carrying on the air war in Vietnam.

The draft agreement calls for a withdrawal of all American forces from Vietnam within 60 days of signing, but there is no prohibition against U. S. forces in Thailand or against U. S. naval forces in the area.

Republicans Rap Generalities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan's state of the state message to the 110th General Assembly Wednesday night brought predictably partisan reaction from lawmakers.

Typical Democratic response referred to the governor's dedication to improving conditions in the state, while Republicans said Gilligan spoke in generalities.

"My biggest reaction was my disappointment," said House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg.

"There really wasn't much there. He talked about nice things, clean government, ethical government, clean elections. We're all in favor of these, but he didn't give us any programs."

House Speaker A. G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, said the people "cannot help but be impressed" with the governor's proposals.

He noted that Gilligan's budget "calls for almost $1 million to compensate the victims of crime, and $33 million in the fight against drugs, also big increases for education."

Rep. Robert Levitt, R-70 North Canton, said there was "nothing new and different" in Gilligan's proposals. He said most of the items Gilligan mentioned were passed by the Republican-dominated 109th General Assembly.

Rep. Richard Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, called the governor's proposals "excellent," focusing on three major areas, an ethics bill, election reform and government reorganization.

Rep. Robert Netzley, R-81 Laura, called the new spending proposals "Gilligan's second welfare budget." He said it called for "bloated welfare increases at the expense of the working man."

Rep. Leonard Ostrovsky, D-17 Mayfield Heights, said he thought Gilligan's message was "dynamic" in that he promised to increase state services and not increase taxes.

Sen. Donald "Buz" Lukens, R-4 Middletown, said he was in favor of the concept of ethics legislation, but believes full financial disclosure such as Gilligan wants would drive many qualified people from public office.

Senate Minority Leader Anthony Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland said, "It was a fine speech. The governor pointed out that the federal government isn't doing anything for welfare except draining the states' treasury. He was very articulate. I am happy to hear he is giving more money for mental health and the mentally retarded. I am a strong supporter of these community services."

Lt. Gov. John Brown commented that, "It was a speech directed at all the people, creating all things for all people. It was very interesting that occasionally, he took credit for the achievements of the 109th General Assembly. I was very disturbed about his government reorganization plan. I hope the Republicans and Democrats alike will not give up their legislative authority."

House Speaker pro tem Vernal Riffe, D-89 New Boston, "It was good from the standpoint of an increase of $186 million for elementary and secondary education, $350 million in property tax relief, including $60 million for the elderly — and it only calls for $500 million more in state funds with $1 billion coming from the federal government."

Rep. Jame Thorpe, R-90 Alliance, said Gilligan proved that he was going to spend the money Republicans gave him in 1971 when they helped pass the state income tax.

Thorpe, a leader in the fight against the income tax, said Gilligan's increase in spending over four years would amount to almost $3.6 billion.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, said it was essential that the public "be fully aware of the emphasis on contributions to public and higher education..." Meshel noted the emphasis in the budget on improving services in mental health, and penal reform fields "while at the same time he exhibited a very real tax reform effort as it relates to the real property rollback."

Ohio AFL-CIO President Frank King, who listened to the speech from the House gallery, said of Gilligan's pledge of no new taxes:

"I don't take any exception to that. That's his prerogative. But there may have to be some shifting around."

But King did take exception to Gilligan's earlier announcement that the administration will not accept a plan to change income tax laws so married couples may file separate returns if they wish.

"This is going to be a little bit hard for the governor to ignore... I'm afraid there is going to be some flak on this," King said.

Report Mental Hospitals Unable To Determine Sanity

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Who's sane? Who's insane?

The psychiatrists and staffs of mental hospitals cannot be trusted to tell the difference, declares Prof. David L. Rosenhan, a Stanford University psychologist.

Rosenhan says he and seven other sane investigators arranged as a test to be admitted as schizophrenic patients in 12 different mental hospitals, yet none of the eight was found to be sane by hospital professionals.

But Rosenhan says it was "quite common" for actual psychiatric patients to correctly identify the "pseudopatient" imposters.

"The fact that patients often recognized normality when staff did not raised important questions," Rosenhan observes.

Rosenhan reports on the findings of the study in an article in the Jan. 19 issue of Science magazine.

Rosenhan said he and his seven colleagues eventually were released as "schizophrenics in remission," despite their best efforts to convince the hospital staff of their sanity.

"We now know that we cannot distinguish insanity from sanity," Rosenhan declared.

"We continue to label patients 'schizophrenic', 'manic depressive', and 'insane' as if in those words we had captured the essence of understanding," he wrote.

"The facts of the matter are that we have known for a long time that our diagnoses often are not useful or reliable, but we have nevertheless continued to use them."

Rosenhan, who also teaches law at Stanford, said he and the other pseudopatients were shocked and horrified by their experiences.

But, he said, they did not blame the hospital staffs.

"By and large, they were well-intentioned people, and in no way do we want to malign them," he said.

"The hospital itself imposes a special environment in which the meanings of behavior can easily be misunderstood."

Rosenhan said the pseudopatient group included a psychiatrist, a pediatrician, a painter, a housewife, a Stanford psychology graduate student and three other psychologists.

He said they gained admission to hospitals in California, Oregon, Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware by feigning symptoms of schizophrenia.

"The uniform failure to recognize sanity cannot be attributed to the quality of treatment facilities. While there was considerable variability between them, several are considered excellent," Rosenhan reported.

"Nor can it be alleged that there simply was not enough time to observe the pseudopatients. Length of hospitalization ranged from seven to 52 days, with an average of 19 days."

"All pseudopatients took extensive notes publicly. Under ordinary circumstances such behavior would have raised questions in the minds of observers, as in fact it did among patients."

"Nursing records for three pseudopatients indicate that the writing was seen as an aspect of their pathological behavior."

Heating Oil Quotas Stop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting to alleviate a winter fuel shortage, the Nixon administration has ended import limits on heating oil and boosted total oil-import quotas east of the Rocky Mountains by more than half.

George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, Wednesday announced the decision to suspend controls on imports of widely used No. 2 heating oil through the first four months of this year, but said fuel-oil supplies will remain tight all winter.

Oil industry sources said, however, the move should head off any serious shortage through the rest of the cold season.

Lincoln also said the administration has increased the East Coast total import quota for 1973 by some 915,000 barrels a day, raising the 1972 quota of 1,785,000 barrels a day by about 51 per cent.

The West Coast import quota for crude oil was boosted from the 1972 level of 717,000 barrels per day to 800,000 a day for 1973.

Lincoln said the moves might encourage importers who were saving their allocations to release them now.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices rose moderately again today, triggered by positive economic reports and encouraging developments in Vietnam.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 4.90 to 1034.02, and advances outnumbered declines by about 7 to 4 in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Commerce Department announced personal income increased by $7.7 billion in December. Another department report was expected to show that the Gross National Product posted a "real" gain of 8.5 per cent in the fourth quarter of 1972.

Topping the most-active issues on the Big Board was Mattel, off 1/2 to 10 3/4 after a block of 139,400 shares moved at 10 1/4.

The noon NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was up .26 to 64.75, while the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange was ahead .03.

Toronto, Ohio Water Crisis Ends As Pipe Tie-In Made

TORONTO, Ohio (AP) — It wasn't exactly like walking on the moon, but Toronto Water Supt. George Wise went into ecstasy at 12:05 a.m. when the city filtration plant began doing its thing.

"We're making a little water," said Wise. "We have the connection made. I think I'll sleep well tonight."

A four-day water emergency was over and Wise and the 8,000 residents of this Ohio River community were relieved.

"We were right down to the nitty-gritty," said Wise. "There was somewhere between six inches and a foot of water in the reservoir. It was just about dry."

The emergency arose Sunday afternoon when a break occurred in the city's main water line that's 20 feet underground and hard for drills to reach. The break in the 12-inch line kept the filtration plant from pumping water into the reservoir and forced the closings of schools, industries, restaurants, bars, beauty salons and laundries.

After fruitless attempts to get at the break, Wise decided Tuesday to permanently reroute the entire piping system at the plant. He thought the new system would be completed the next morning but crewmen encountered difficulties because the flanges didn't conform exactly to the old sand cast pipes.

During the emergency, the city periodically received water from Jefferson County and the nearby Ohio Edison Co. Wise said the connection with the county was broken off around 11 p.m. Wednesday night and the tie-in with Ohio Edison was ended when the filtration plant began pumping.

Wise said the Caul Clay Co. and city schools would remain closed today while "we get a good supply of water in

Phone Rate Hike Asked

HUDSON, Ohio (AP)—The Western Ohio Telephone Co. has asked approval by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission for a $409,000 annual rate increase, Western President Nelson Case said Wednesday.

According to Case, the increase would raise monthly service charges between $3 and $4. The increases would affect about 9,600 customers in Kenton, Delta, Paulding and Neapolis.

Case said the increase is needed to provide enough income to pay interest on money needed to improve telephone service. He said it is also needed to help offset increased operating expenses.

The hike would boost present operating revenue about 24 per cent. If approved it would increase single-resident service rates in Kenton from $7 to $10.95; in Delta and Neapolis from $5.25 to $9.15, and in Paulding from $5.65 to $9.15.

The last increases in that area were granted in the early 1960s.

Year-Round Daylight Time To Be Pushed In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional boosters of a plan to extend Daylight Saving Time to a year-round basis say their chances are better than ever because of increasing crime and the nation's fuel shortage.

The extra hour of daylight on winter afternoons would hamper purse snatchers and muggers who prey on late-afternoon pedestrians and it would reduce the use of electric lights in office buildings, they say.

Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., planned to introduce in the House today a bill to extend DST from its present six-months-a-year status to a fulltime basis. DST is in operation in virtually all the states from the last Sunday of April to the last Sunday of October.

Hosmer's office said 31 other House members had agreed to sponsor the legislation as of Wednesday night. The bill that died in the last Congress had 14 sponsors.

One of the most important names on the bill is that of Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the subcommittee that must first consider the bill.

"I've been sponsoring this bill for several years in the hope that sooner or later its time would come," Hosmer said in a statement Wednesday. "This year may be it."

Moss, who was cool toward similar legislation in the past, said the fuel shortage is the primary reason he has decided to back the measure this year.

"I think at a time when we are admittedly faced with an energy crisis it

Car Shortage Said Easing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The railroad car shortage which has left elevators bulging with newly-harvested grain appears to be on the verge of easing.

An Ohio Public Utilities Commission official said Wednesday the Interstate Commerce Commission has taken steps to free 20,000 cars for use in the East to transport grain.

John Gordon, the commission's director of transportation, said Ohio needs about 1,000 cars a week.

A shortage of the jumbo hoppers, which carry 3,000 bushels of grain, apparently resulted because of grain shipments to the East Coast as part of the American-Russian grain deal.

The demand for the cars in Ohio developed after cold weather enabled farmers to harvest corn and soybean crops from previously water-soaked fields. The farmers have overflowed elevators with grain in some areas because of the unavailability of railroad cars to ship the corn and soybeans to markets.

Meanwhile, in Washington, a Senate Agriculture subcommittee tentatively scheduled a hearing Jan. 25 to determine what can be done to relieve the railroad car shortage.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., who requested the hearing, said "there is a feeling among many grain elevator operators in the country that the larger terminal elevators are getting the boxcars while the smaller elevators are left with large orders to fill and no means of transportation."

Order Auditor To Pay Raises

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)— Fairfield Auditor George Schiering has been ordered, for the second time in a week, to pay wage increases to 76 city employees.

Butler County Common Pleas Court Judge Fred Cramer Monday ordered Schiering to make the payments following a mandamus action filed by the city.

Schiering appealed the case Wednesday saying that while most of the raises were about 5.2 per cent, others were greater than the 5.5 per cent recommended in federal guidelines. Cramer told Schiering he had no authority to question the council's action.

Woman Clarinet Player Absent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force band's first woman member won't be marching with the unit at President Nixon's inauguration parade Saturday.

A few months ago Airman Karen Riale of Cedarhurst, N.Y., became a clarinetist with the 100-member band from Bolling Air Force Base here.

But now, according to the official inaugural program, Karen won't perform in the parade "because the Air Force hasn't finished tailoring the band's specially designed black uniform with white pinstripes for women."

Protest Rally May Draw Thousands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip Hart and the Rev. Philip Berrigan head the speakers list for an antiwar rally which sponsors say is expected to draw tens of thousands for President Nixon's second inauguration.

Organizers say talk of a Vietnam cease-fire and a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam have not dampened enthusiasm for a weekend of antiwar activity, which has been endorsed by more than 30 members of Congress.

Nearly all the divergent groups planning to demonstrate emphasize peaceful mass protest as a means of pressuring Nixon to begin his second term with a quick end to the war.

Jerry Gordon, coordinator of the National Peace Action Coalition, said about 1,000 volunteer marshals will be trained to keep order at the rally on the grounds of the Washington Monument.

Predicting tens of thousands will travel to Washington Saturday, Gordon said Wednesday: "The momentum which had been developed has not been slowed by the temporary end to bombing above the 17th Parallel."

Gordon and Sidney Pack of the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice are organizing the biggest of the counter-inaugural activities.

This will be a march from Arlington Cemetery to the monument where the crowd will hear Hart, long a foe of the war; Berrigan, the antiwar priest recently released from prison; Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y.; Rep. Andrew Young, D-Ga.; folksinger Pete Seeger; and 10 other speakers while Nixon takes the oath of office on Capitol Hill.

School Bus Driver Blamed For Crash

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover charged 57-year-old Westfall School District bus driver, Oscar A. Atwood, Williamsport, with driving left of center after his bus, carrying 13 students, collided with a car near Westfall High School 9:45 a.m. Wednesday.

According to the accident report, Atwood was driving the 1968 model bus West of Route 56. He stopped at the intersection of the Darbyville-Williamsport Road, to allow two other school buses to proceed on Route 56 ahead of him.

When he then tried to make a left turn onto the Darbyville-Williamsport Road, he hit an eastbound car driven by Ernest L. Hines, 22, Route 4, London.

Hines told Deputy Hoover that he spotted the bus trying to turn in front of him and drove off the right trying to avoid an accident. However the bus, which was a foot and a half over the center line, hit the front of the car and demolished the entire left side of the vehicle. The bus was knocked six feet backwards by the impact, according to the report.

Neither driver nor the 13 bus passengers were hurt in the crash.

Estimate 70,000 Ohioans Are 'Silent' Gonorrhea Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An estimated 70,000 Ohioans who don't even suspect there is anything wrong with them will discover some day they've lost the ability to have children.

Some will be told they are dying. It will be their first notice that they have gonorrhea, and it will come too late to do them any good.

But, for another 30,000 infected people who have early symptoms that can be recognized, there is help.

George Sides, chief of the VD unit of the State Health Department, says Ohio's mushrooming venereal disease problem may be leveling off.

"We've got to do more than contain it," Sides said. "It's got to peak out and start rolling back. I would hope that it is, but I'm not optimistic enough to say it yet. There are pockets of infection we haven't identified yet."

Sides said there were about 30,000 reported cases of gonorrhea in Ohio in 1971, and it appears the figure will be slightly lower in 1972.

But, he estimated another 70,000 cases didn't get reported last year, "and the bulk of those are people who'll have no way of knowing they have the disease until they develop severe infections."

Sides said once that happens, sterility is almost inevitable and in advanced cases death can be the result.

Most of the people who will find out too late that they are infected are women. Sides said 80 to 90 per cent of infected women have no early symptoms. Of infected men, only 8 to 10 per cent don't know they have gonorrhea.

Syphilis is also a problem in Ohio, but the number of reported cases dropped to about 320 last year. Syphilis is easier to detect. It shows up in blood tests, and about 2 million Ohioans get blood tests for one reason or another every year.

Gonorrhea can only be discovered in women through a pelvic examination, which relatively few have.

"They're working on a blood test for gonorrhea," Sides said. "But I think it will be a few years before they have one."

Federal, state and local governments spent more than $2 million in Ohio last year on a program to encourage doctors, laboratories and health officials to report venereal disease cases and to find persons who were exposed to known cases and urge them to seek treatment.

The Columbus city health department pioneered the program starting in 1969, Sides said, and the results achieved in the capital city over the past three years have been good.

When the program began, Columbus had about four males with gonorrhea for every female case. Now the ratio is about one to one.

Sides said this indicates that when a male seeks treatment for the disease, officials are doing a good job of contacting the female who gave it to him and getting her treated before she can infect others.

Sides said Columbus ranked fourth in the state in 1971 in reported gonorrhea cases per 100,000 population with a rate of 816.7, behind Cleveland with 1,313.4, Akron with 906.9 and Dayton with 840.3.

In whatever city, gonorrhea attacked the 20 to 24 age group most strongly. Statewide that age group in 1971, last year with full statistics, had 1,476.4 cases per 100,000. Next most prevalent age group was 15 to 19 years old with 855.3 cases per 100,000.

The same 20-24 group led the syphilis statistics, too, with 16.6 cases per 100,000, followed by 11.3 cases per 100,000 for the 25-29 group.

Dayton led the state in syphilis in 1971 with 42.2 cases per 100,000 population, followed by Cincinnati with 31.6 cases, Columbus with 10 and Cleveland with 6.7.

Sides said the relatively high number of cases in Dayton and Cincinnati was apparently due to problems with reporting of cases to the state, which he said are being cleared up.

Another problem with gonorrhea, Sides said, is that many doctors are still treating it with a drug called bicillin, which used to be effective against the disease but isn't any more.

He said the federal government for the past decade has recommended use of a much stronger type of penicillin in bigger dosages.

Sides said the state aims to examine 600,000 women between the ages of 15 and 44 this year in a "massive screening program" to identify as many cases of gonorrhea as possible.

Those who do have the disease will be asked to name their recent sexual contacts, with health investigators will urge those who have been exposed to the known case to get themselves tested.

"All of this is carried out in strictest confidence," Sides said. "They don't even know where the information comes from — just that they were exposed to the disease on a certain date."

Tougher Precautions

Phase I of the new airline security rules is now in effect, causing so far little more than passenger inconvenience. Phase II will go into effect on Feb. 5, and that could be a different story.

Beginning that date airports will have to see to it that every scheduled flight has an armed guard at the departure gate. There are approximately 15,000 flights a day.

That is when the financial plight is going to be felt. The inconvenience of searches and passing through detection equipment—phase I of the security system—at many airports can be handled by existing personnel.

Various estimates of the cost of the new security precautions run up to $170 million. Whether it reaches that level or not, the cost will be significant. However the funding is handled—through local airports, grants from the government or by the airlines—the result likely will be higher plane fares.

If the precautions now being put into effect put a permanent end to terrorism in the skies, few passengers will have cause to complain. Past campaigns to put an end to hijackings with the least possible inconvenience to passengers have failed.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Jan. 18, the 18th day of 1973. There are 347 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1788, the first English settlers arrived in Australia.

On this date:

In 1534, the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro, founded Lima, Peru.

In 1778, the English explorer, Captain James Cook, discovered the Hawaiian islands.

In 1782, the American statesman, Daniel Webster, was born in Salisbury, N.H.

In 1919, the World War I peace conference opened at Versailles, France.

In 1943, in World War II, the Soviets announced they had broken the long German siege of Leningrad.

In 1952, anti-British riots broke out in Egypt.

Ten years ago: The de Gaulle government in France was insisting that Britain be barred from the European Common Market.

Five years ago: Singer Eartha Kitt had a White House confrontation with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, telling the First Lady that American youth was in rebellion because of the Vietnam war.

One year ago: A U.S. Coast Guard ice breaker was escorting two Soviet fishing boats toward Adak Island after they were caught operating within U.S. territorial waters off Alaska.

Today's birthdays: Cary Grant is 69. Danny Kaye is 60. Muhammad Ali is 31.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

People who study Yoga and meditate seem to be so tranquil and at peace with themselves.

Do they actually undergo some physical change in the body to produce this effect?

Miss G.P., Calif.

Dear Miss P.:

For many years, the portrait of tranquility of Yogis during periods of meditation was not fully understood, or even accepted.

Today, it is possible to hook up instruments to record the blood pressure, the rate of the heart beat, the activity of the brain waves, and the character of the blood during periods of intense meditation.

Many interesting studies have been performed on young, volunteer "meditators" to better understand the physiology of meditation. It is now definitely accepted that some body organs definitely undergo changes during these states of concentration.

Indian Yogis have been reported to perform remarkable feats during periods of meditation.

Research workers, equipped with electrocardiographs, actually studied the heart waves before, during and after periods of meditation and found distinct differences.

It is now accepted that many of the physiological behavior patterns of the brain, the heart, the lungs and respiration, and the circulatory system can be altered during the state of meditation.

A great many studies are being carried out in an effort to evaluate all body systems' benefits during such periods.

How long does it take to completely recover from a prostate operation? I have been told I may need the operation and I would like to plan the proper time for it.

Mr. J.O., La.

Dear Mr. O.:

The surgeon who suggested the operation, I am sure, will be glad to give you an approximate idea of the time required.

Since doctors are not prophets it is not possible to speculate when a patient will completely recover from any kind of surgery and be able to return to full activity.

Recuperation from an illness or from surgery depends entirely on the individual. It is often surprising to find that the elderly may sometimes recover far more rapidly than younger people.

The individual stamina and emotional drive to get well play an important part in convalescence and recovery.

When making plans for an elective operation patients should not take on the additional emotional burden of having to "get well" on a specific day. There should be latitude to allow for complete recovery.

What foods are essential to help a person who has chronic constipation?

Mrs. H.H., Iowa

Dear Mrs. H.:

A high residue diet should be observed. This should include fruit, vegetables, and whole grain cereals. In addition, 6 to 8 glasses of water each day is important. Stimulation of the muscles of the intestinal walls by "roughage" foods is extremely helpful.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American business is always analyzing itself — its past performance, its intentions, its customers, its trends. And if a particular business declines to do so, someone else will do it and make a profit in the process.

Thus, Arthur Lipper Corp., an investment banker, reports some figures that the mutual fund industry might shrink from publicizing: the average gain of 537 funds last year failed to match any of the popular indices.

While the Dow Jones industrial average rose 14.58 per cent, the Standard & Poor's 500 some 15.63 per cent, and the New York Stock Exchange composite average more than 14 per cent, the average fund rose only 9.26 per cent.

It means that if you did as well as the averages with your own portfolio, you did at least as well as 374 of the professionally managed funds that were measured.

The danger in using these statistics as a measure of your own accomplishment is that they are averages, and averages are always distorted by the extremes.

There are good funds and poor funds. While the worst of them actually declined 34.24 per cent in 1972, the leader, Templeton Growth, appreciated 68.45 per cent, or more than four times faster than the popular indices.

The New York Stock Exchange has been closely monitoring the profits and losses of its members. The compilation shows just how bad things got on the money street last summer, when some brokers feared collapse.

The survey, involving companies accounting for two-thirds of revenues, showed commission business dropped to $4.8 million for the first nine months of 1972, compared with $29.9 million a year earlier.

The real drought occurred in the third quarter, when the firms lost $9.2 million on commission business, although recording an over-all profit of $7.4 million because of underwriting and other activities.

Since then business has picked up sharply.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Erich Maria Remarque in his novel "All Quiet On the Western Front" makes this proposal:

"A declaration of war should be a kind of popular festival with entrance tickets and bands like a bull fight. Then in the arena the ministers and generals of the two countries, dressed in bathing drawers and armed with clubs can have it out among themselves. Whoever survives, his country wins. That would be much simpler and more just than this arrangement where the wrong people do the fighting."

Now, if we, the people, can just talk Nixon and Kissinger into seeing it that way, "I'll gladly furnish the clubs and bathing drawers to both of them."

Respectfully yours,

The Bombing Uproar

By JEFFREY HART

White House aides report, plausibly enough, that president Nixon feels outraged by the response around the world to the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong. As well he might. For not only has much of the criticism been patently unfair, but there is even something eerie about it. A few points:

For one thing, we hear again and again that this has been the most intensive bombing in history, heavier than anything in World War II, that umpteen tons of bombs have been dropped and umpteen sorties flown, and so on. Very impressive. But you will notice one striking detail. Even Hanoi is claiming only the relatively low total of 1,800 civilian casualties. Now that is a lot of people to kill, but the contract with World War II is striking indeed. It is clear that the U.S. Air Force went to great lengths to minimize civilian casualties, even at increased risk to its own planes, and that the targets chosen were carefully delimited.

Now on the basis of those 1,800 casualties, Nixon is being likened — not only by journalists but also by foreign politicians — to devil figures ranging from Adolf Hitler to Attila the Hun. The epithets applied to him in supposedly sober newspapers have been startlingly extreme.

But consider the examples of some of Nixon's recent and revered predecessors. In 1953, President Eisenhower, fed up with horsing around in Korea, quietly and indirectly ordered B-29 bombing raids of the North. And he quietly let it be known, through the usual diplomatic channels, that the next step might well be atomic bombing. Yet no one discerns in the genial lineaments of the beloved like the glowering visage of the Butcher of Berlin.

Only recently, Harry S. Truman was laid to rest amid virtually universal paeans of praise. The combative little man from Independence, Mo., many are beginning to say, may well have been one of our great Presidents. Yet each of the two atom bombs dropped on the Japanese at Truman's command killed many times the number of civilians lost in the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in liberal eyes, has achieved virtual beautification. Yet Roosevelt—and, of course, the beloved Winston Churchill — ordered the massive bombing of German cities during World War II, to say nothing of the fire-bombing of Tokyo. The British began the war, in fact, with an air force specifically designed to inflict civilian casualties. The heavyweight planes of Bomber Command were good for little else. (Interestingly enough, the Nazis fought the Battle of Britain without heavy bombers.) And though the tonnages dropped by the allies on German cities were lower than the total in Vietnam, the casualties inflicted were astronomically higher. As a former Air Force officer recently remarked to me, "In World War II" the name of the game was civilians. It was called attacking morale."

Listening to some of the comments about the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong, you are forced to conclude that, in the eyes of many, North Vietnam enjoys some sort of special, protected status — that other countries may be bombed, and civilians die in other cities, but not in the cities of North Vietnam. This is puzzling. Whatever else history records about this war, it will not record that South Vietnam, invaded North Vietnam. And North Vietnam has not been especially scrupulous about civilian casualties.

The city of Quang Tri had a population of about 15,000 before the recent invasion. Last fall, the North Vietnamese shelled it with some 3,000 rounds per day, leveling homes, hospitals and shops. Today the place is a moonscape. Before the invasion, An Loc had a population of 20,000. The North Vietnamese shelled it and rocketed it. Today hardly anyone lives there. Civilian casualties were very high; at An Loc they were estimated at 7,000. And so a peculiar solicitude for North Vietnam would seem at the very least to be misplaced.

But having said all this, and having said it with little fear of contradiction, one realizes that the extraordinary reaction needs to be explained. No one cares what Olof Palme of Sweden says, but other more reputable figures have chimed in, and this is a subject to which I would like to return.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The trouble with winter ailments is that they are too commonplace and conventional. The common cold, of course, is for the mob, the 24-hour virus for the riffraff. And the flu is hardly better. At the best it is only for the hoi polloi.

One year it may be the Tokyo flu, the next year the London flu, but basically it is a disease with lower-class symptoms, leaves one with second-rate feelings, and hardly appeals to anyone of distinction and genteel breeding.

Well, is there a winter disease that does? Is there any malady that can make a person of real sensitivity and social standing feel it is worth his time to be ill?

Actually, there are many — if you can but learn to spell and pronounce their names.

For example, what is the most common thing in winter? Is it not snow? And does not snow annoy you, bore you, or fill you with feelings of nervous dread? Ergo, you have your disease.

Yes, you are suffering from chionophobia, the fear of snow.

As a motorist do you worry that ice will make hill roads unsafe for driving? Take it easy, then, honey. You're a victim of crennophobia, the fear of steep places.

And if some lazy teen-age kid sassed you when you asked him to shovel out your driveway and you're all worn out from doing the job yourself, you've automatically picked up two more attention-winning cold weather afflictions. They are pedophobia, the fear of children, and kopnophobia, the fear of fatigue. The chances are, if you are middle-age, that you are out of breath and your chest feels tight. In that case you also have cardiophobia, the fear of heart disease.

When you go to the theater or opera or a dress-up ball, do you sometimes feel you will be smothered in a sea of women's mink coats? Put yourself down for doraphobia, the fear of touching animal skins.

Probably also you have to cut down your usual activities because of inclement weather, and get so restless you start talking to yourself. Right? Aha! Do you know what you've got? You've got a triple-threatener. You've got autophobia, the fear of solitude; monophobia, the fear of being alone; and phonophobia, the fear of hearing your own voice.

The nice thing about all these winter ailments is that none of them will make you cough, sneeze or sniffle.

GTE Plans $1.1 Million Expansion Program Here

The introduction of nationwide direct distance dialing and expansion of facilities for growth and party-line reduction highlight a $1.1 million construction program for Circleville district in 1973, General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today.

Paul G. Diener, Circleville district commercial manager, said DDD will start Feb. 11. It will make it possible for users in Circleville, Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport to dial long distance station-to-station calls direct without going through an operator.

The other exchanges in the district, Amanda, Baltimore, Millersport and Pleasantville, already have DDD.

Diener said work on establishing DDD here is on schedule. It has been in progress for about two years. Total cost of preparing for the new service will exceed $1.5 million.

More than 40 projects are on the worksheets. A large portion of these jobs will be aimed at upgrading outdoor distribution facilities (cables and poles) throughout the district. Where possible cable will be buried.

Four major cable projects totaling $186,600 are planned for the Circleville exchange. In addition, $81,300 is allocated for expanding local call-switching equipment in the Circleville office.

The Amanda exchange has two major cable additions scheduled at a cost of $45,500, along with $12,000 addition of switching equipment.

Ashville has several projects planned. Expansion of outside cable facilities will cost $44,600. Construction is to start in mid-1973 on a major cable addition in the eastern part of the exchange in the area of Ohio 316.

A major addition of cable facilities is scheduled for the Baltimore exchange. This $22,500 job is designed to provide for upgrading service and for future growth.

Grange News

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Saltcreek Valley Grange held their first birthday meeting for members born in the first quarter of the year. Those honored were: Donna Beougher, Fred DeLong, Orley Judy, Virgil Timmons, Raymond Hedges, and Hoyt Timmons.

After the traditional birthday song, the members participated in many birthday games and in a news columnist game. Francis Fraunfelder read a poem "Miss Fogerty's Cake" which was followed by a yearly wish solved by all members present.

The business meeting preceded the party, during which the Grange planned practices for the annual presentation of the first degree. Captain of the degree staff, Don DeLong, selected February 6 and 20 as the dates for the rehearsals.

Saltcreek Grange members will assist with the district Legislative Meeting to be held this Friday at the grange building.

The charter was draped in memory of Mary Wolfe, past member of the order.

Following the business and program, a cooperative refreshment hour was given in honor of those with birthdays. The next meeting of the grange will be February 6, beginning at 7:30 p.m. marked for two major additions of outside plant facilities. One addition will be installation of cable along Ohio 56. This will consist of aerial and buried cable. Additional construction is to start in midyear, at a cost of $40,700. Added call-switching equipment also will be installed at a cost of $49,700.

The Millersport, Pleasantville, and Williamsport exchanges also have major construction scheduled during this year. A total of $118,500 will be expended chiefly for major cable additions.

"All of these projects reflect the increased use of telephone facilities and the growth within the entire district," Diener added.

The Circleville district serves about 21,400 telephones in a 648-square-mile area mainly in Pickaway, Fairfield, and Hocking counties. Portions extend into Licking, Perry, Ross and Vinton counties.

BRIDGE CLOSED—A bridge spanning the Circleville - Winchester Rd., just south of the Red Bridge-East Ringgold Rd. intersection, was ordered closed by County Engineer Henry McCrady Tuesday night after a section on the south side was ruled unsafe. Natural causes are blamed for the defect, which has positioned the metal side at an angle to the bridge.

Senate Committee Approves Nixon Cabinet Nominations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved President Nixon's top defense and intelligence nominations, but it appears the President will be sworn in Saturday without full Senate approval of his new Cabinet.

Ignoring the request of one of its members for a delay, the committee Tuesday approved the appointment of Elliot L. Richardson as secretary of defense, William P. Clements Jr. as deputy defense secretary and James P. Schlesinger as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, who wants the Senate to delay action on the three nominees until after the inauguration as a protest against the Vietnam war, voted "present" in committee on the motions to approve the. All other committee members voted for the nominations.

Earlier Hughes withdrew his demand for open hearings on the financial holdings of Richardson and Clements after Sen. John Stennis, D-

Miss., committee chairman, agreed to release their proposals for managing their financial affairs while the two are in office.

Stennis said he would be ready to proceed on the Senate floor Friday.

With Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird formally leaving, Stennis said it would be "unfortunate if the confirmation of his successor is held up appreciably beyond Inauguration Day."

The Commerce Committee Monday approved nomination of Claude S. Brinegar as secretary of transportation, Egil Krogh as undersecretary of transportation and Frederick Dent as secretary of Commerce.

MRS. ARNOLD M. REUSCH

Brewer-Reusch Wedding Vows Read In Ashville Church

The marriage of Miss Cathy A. Brewer and Mr. Arnold M. Reusch took place 7:30 p.m., Dec. 23rd, in the Ashville Methodist Church. The Rev. John Glick performed the candlelight ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Brewer of Ashville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Reusch of Willow Grove, Pa.

Fan shaped arrangements of gladioli and snow crystal poms adorned the altar and the pews were decorated with white stain bows and greenery topped with hurricane lamps.

A program of nuptial selections was presented preceding the ceremony by Miss Ginger Hall of Marion, Ohio, a sorority sister of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father. She selected for her wedding a formal bridal gown of all white Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline, fitted sleeves with bridal point cuffs, empire waistline and A-line skirt. The attached chapel length train was fastened with a wide white satin Dior bow in the back.

A pearl crown headpiece, worn by the bride's mother and maternal grandmother, held her elbow length silk illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and blue satin roses with white snow crystal poms and long white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Melanie Hedges of Ashville, in a blue butcher linen gown with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline, fitted sleeves with large funnel cuffs lined with white Chantilly lace and A-line skirt falling softly from an empire waistline.

Miss Paula Hoover of Zionsville, Ind., was bridesmaid. She was gowned as the honor attendant and they both carried colonial bouquets of snow crystal poms, dark blue star flowers and blue satin roses.

Members Welcomed In Laurelville

Church Of God WMS

Two women joined the Women's Missionary Society of the Laurelville Church of God during its Thursday meeting at the church. Welcomed were Judy Clifton and Charity Swackhammer.

Jo Hardman read "Woman Next Door." Charlotte Ash, "New Year's Resolutions and Ruth Reid, a poem written by a member. A discussion of the topics followed with members telling of similar incidents occurring in their lives. Many prayer requests were made and Shirley Moreno led in prayer.

President, Margie Ebert, presided over the business meeting, opened with members responding to roll call by reading a Scripture verse using the word "new."

Plans were made to sell noodles in the community in the near future and a tax project within the society to earn money. Members will pay taxes on each child they have, each ring, TV, car, etc. they possess. Members over 50 years will have some exemptions in this fun, money making project. Secret pal names were drawn for the year.

Refreshments were served by Jo Hardman and Thelma Johnson.

Jeff Kaiser Feted On 9th Birthday

A party was given by Jay and Evelyn Kaiser on Saturday afternoon in honor of their son, Jeff, who celebrated his ninth birthday. The sheet cake was decorated with a baseball player on a ball diamond. The traditional birthday napkins, cups, and plates adorned the three refreshment tables. Each one present enjoyed cake, ice cream and nuts along with balloons, and party favors.

The party began by playing two team and four individual games. Winners of the games were Sheryl Cox, Kristen Metzger, Jerry Mowery, and Jerri Kaiser.

Those attending and making the party a memorable occasion for Jeff were: Patty Garrison, Shara Valentine, Kristen Metzger, Sheryl Cox, Mary Ann Mosley, Tim Bush, Brian Wisecup, Tony Hamric, Jerry Mowery, Kenny Horch, Jeff Fullen, Randy Green, Jay Lane, Doug Newton, Jon Rhoads, Jimmy Wilbanks, Mike Whitten, and Jerri Kaiser.

After the party a game of football was enjoyed by the boys at the schoolground.

Five Points WCTU Discusses Topics

Mrs. Herman Porter was hostess for the Wednesday afternoon meeting of Five Points Women's Christian Temperance Union, in her home.

President, Mrs. Francis Furniss, used as her theme "Behavior And Justice." Mrs. Porter read Scripture followed with meditation and prayer. Members sang "Lead On O King Eternal."

Mrs. Porter, treasurer, announced that the county and state dues have been paid. Mrs. Loring Stoer read "The Christian And The Law" in connection with the Legislation Department of which she is chairman Miss Long read Education Includes Knowledge With Law."

Following a lengthy discussion on the topics read the meeting closed with the benediction and a salad course was served by the hostess.

No meeting will be held in February and the March meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Furniss.

New Officers Named

By Martha Circle

Officers for the new year were named during the Monday evening meeting of Martha Circle, Community United Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. Willison Leist, 360 Watt St.

Heading the circle's activities for the year will be, Mrs. Leist, chairman; Mrs. John Chilcote, co-chairman; Mrs. Walter Owens, social concerns; Mrs. William Bosworth, treasurer and Miss Eloise Hanley, secretary.

For the program Mrs. Leist talked about the book of Genesis and the beginning of the new year. Devotions were given by Mrs. Maxine Andregg.

The General WSCS Meeting to be held in February was announced. Virginia Massie of Grove City will present the program entitled "I Am Unique" for the 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. retreat.

Meetings for the coming year were discussed and hostesses and meeting sites were agreed upon.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Leist, Mrs. Chilcote, Mrs. Bosworth and Miss Hanley.

Girl Scout Troop Makes Annual Hike

Girl Scout Junior Troop 625 from Laurelville attended the annual Old Man's Cave Hike on Saturday.

They hiked from Old Man's Cave to Ash Cave, stopping at Cedar Falls for lunch, where bean soup, hot chocolate and coffee were served. Having attended last year's hike, the girls again found the weather cold and the ice formations beautiful.

Scouts attending were: Melissa Barton, Darcy Ebert, Michele Ebert, Cheryl Gabriel, Cheryl Hartranft, Cheryl Johnston, Patty Meuller, Janet Newman, Kendra Redman, Toni Redman, Lisa Rife and Rhonda Thurston. Adults attending were Terry Ebert, assistant leaders, Bonny Ebert and Norma Gabriel, and leader Betty Ebert.

The troop is now making final plans for its Camp-In at COSI in Columbus on Jan. 20th and 21st.

In February the girls will be taking orders for cookies. Anyone in the Laurelville area not contacted and wishing to order may call 332-3804 or 332-2604. The troop uses the profits from this project for camping activities.

Guild 41 To Meet

Mrs. Charles Harrison, 1110 Atwater Ave., will host Berger Hospital Guild 41 in her home 7:30 p.m. Monday. Each member is asked to bring her favorite hors d'oeuvres.

Area Resident Tours
In Great Britain

Lt. Col. George F. Macklin (ret.) of Saltcreek Twp., returned Sunday from the British Isles after a tour to London, England.

While there he went on local tours to Stratford-on-Avon, the home of William Shakespeare and to Stoke-Poges, the home and church of the poet, Thomas Gray, who wrote "Elegy In A Country Churchyard." He also attended a play and went shopping in the city.

For two days he went alone on a trip to North Ireland. He rented a car at the Belfast Airport and drove nearly 150 miles through the western portion, concentrating on the area around Enniskillen near which ancestors named Armstrong, relatives of a number of people in Pickaway County, had lived for approximately 100 years before coming to America in about 1973.

Although British troops were present in most areas, no actual disturbance occurred while he was there. He found the local Irish people to be very friendly, even more so than the English. Although he had been to London several times this was his first visit in the winter which he especially enjoyed.

Mrs. Tuccinardi
Feted With Shower

Members and friends of the choir of Laurel Hills United Methodist Church met Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the church in Laurelville to honor Mrs. James Tuccinardi, the former Elizabeth Aspenwall, with a bridal shower.

The rooms were beautifully decorated by choir members, Miss Debbie Blum and Miss Cindy Egan. "Love Story" was the theme used for the occasion. A special gift was a silver candy dish from the choir.

Attending were: Mrs. Maxine VanCuren, Miss Laura Handley, Mrs. Joyce Egan, Miss Cindy Egan, Mrs. Mavis Schaal, Mrs. Sue Ann Hinton, Carma and Kim.

Mrs. Marabelle Higgins, Mrs. Barbara Blum, Miss Debbie Blum, Miss Cheryl Moore, Miss Sharon Thomas, Mrs. Geraldine Churchus and Tammy, Miss Pam Kempton.

Mrs. Virginia Stinard, Miss Kim Stinard, Miss Beverly Tisdale, Mrs. Theta DeLong, Miss Cindy DeLong, Miss Christy DeLong and Miss Cheryl Jinks.

Sending gifts as they were unable to attend were: Mrs. Joyce Robinette, Miss Starla VanCuren, Mrs. Lessie Hunt, Mrs. Ruth Hinton, Mrs. Betsy Swepston, Miss Sherry DeLong, Mrs. Karen Schaal, Mrs. Geneva Kempton and Mrs. Deborah Dumm.

After the honored guest opened her gifts a dessert course was served.

Mrs. Tuccinardi is a teacher in the Logan Elm School District, teaching vocal music at Laurelville and resides at Adelphi. Mr. Tuccinardi is presently serving in the United States Navy.

Sneek-A-Peek
AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

After having survived another season in which pro football games dominated the family room on Sundays, Mondays, and all legal holidays, I am sure there's only one reason a mother would want her son to get interested in football. That is, to inflict upon her future daughter-in-law the same agony that she has suffered. However, there will always be books about football for boys. Our newest, "Pro Football's Passing Game", is an interesting, beautifully photographed book written for what we call "young adult boys". (That ambiguous term is used to indicate teen-age boys — or people who read like teen-age boys.) "Pro Football's Passing Game" promises to teach boys some of the finer points of "football's most electrifying play." My suggestion would be to get this book for your teenage daughter. After all, she may be beautiful and know how to cook, but if she doesn't understand football, her future could be very bleak. George Sullivan wrote this book. He has also written "This is Pro Football", "Pro Football's Unforgettable Games," and "Pro Football's All-Time Greats." I wonder what Mrs. Sullivan does on Sunday afternoons?

You may not believe this, but another of our new books about football, "I Want To Be A Football Player", was written on the first- or second-grade level. This means that your first- or second-grade student should be able to read this book all by himself. Then, I assume, he is expected to organize his own team. One good thing about this book by Eugene Baker is that it gives a very clear, simple explanation of the game which even a mother could understand.

If your son has not yet succumbed to the feelings of grandeur induced by calling the TV set nasty names, perhaps it isn't too late to interest him in some good old-fashioned adventure stories. Scott Corbett has written many adventure stories for young people, and his books are often rated outstanding by the Junior Literary Guild. "Steady Freddie" is the story of what happens when a Girl Scout Troop and a Boy Scout Troop take simultaneous tours through the zoo. It is filled with the type of humor that makes Corbett's books so popular, and illustrated by Lawrence Beall Smith. "The Big Joke Game" is another of Corbett's books. It's hero is Ozzie Hinkle, a boy whose bad habit of telling insulting jokes is cured when he takes a trip through a fantasy land where the joke is on him. This book is illustrated by Mircea Vasiliu.

Don't forget our folk-dancing demonstration tonight at 7:30 in the reference room. This could be a very interesting evening!

Rev. A.E. Pusey
Honored By Class

The birthday of the Rev. A. E. Pusey was celebrated during the recent meeting of Good Samaritan Class, Church of the Nazarene, in the Fellowship Hall. The class sang the birthday song and presented him with a gift.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. A. E. Pusey. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. William Hill. Choruses were accompanied by Mrs. Edith Russell on the guitar.

Harry Salsburg read Psalm 43, Helen Allen, the reading, "In A Friendly Sort Of Way" and a poem was read by Leona Anderson, "In His Steps."

A duet "It Is Real" was presented by Rev. and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. A. E. Pusey read "Excuse Me" and prayer was by Marshall McFarland.

There was time for fellowship and refreshments were served by Mrs. Pusey and Ellen McFarland.

Present for the evening were: Rev. and Mrs. William Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Salsburg, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Pusey, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Dunkle, Mrs. Edith Russell and Mrs. Leona Anderson.

Practical Nurses
Plan For 1973

Plans for the coming year were discussed at the Monday evening meeting of Licensed Practical Nurses held in Calvary United Methodist Church.

The business session was presided over by Laura Garret, the new president. Charlotte Hill gave a short devotion presentation in the absence of chaplain, Betty Imler.

The next meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19th at Calvary Church on S. Washington St.

Circle 2 Meets
In Service Center

Circle 2, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, held its first meeting of the year recently at the Church Service Center. Nancy Hamilton, circle leader, opened the meeting with the group singing hymns and reading Scripture. Roberta Hutsler gave the program for the evening. She read a book review about the Twenty-third Psalm, breaking it into a simple and meaningful translation.

Evelyn Dunkle gave a summary of the circle programs for 1973. Announcement was made of Prayer and Self-Denial Day to be held in March and also revival, March 11th to 18th.

Luana Wynkoop, local church responsibility chairman discussed money making projects or giving an offering each month and a decision will be made at the next meeting. The group had a brief discussion on Key 73.

Refreshments were served by Nancy Hamilton to 16 members and two guests, Roberta Hutsler and Dorothy Franklin.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Bond, with Evelyn Dunkle as program leader.

Practical, Sophisticated
Clothes On Tap For Spring

ROME (AP) — Practical and sophisticated clothes are what Italian designers have in mind for the spring and summer of 1973. Some succeed in bringing off both.

This year also is witnessing the return of dresses, a little on the quiet side for morning wear, bouncy and airy for the afternoon and cocktails.

In many cases, designers presented a pleated skirt and belted overblouse to form a dress effect.

Concerned with being practical were the American designers of La Mendola, whose silk jersey and georgette dresses, sometimes with a pleated skirt and stiff Renaissance collar, are crease resistant. Their long evening gowns with draped scarves or maribou boleros carry all the glamour of exotic lands.

Italian couturier Capucci, as much an artist in handling colors as in cutting fabrics, showed fancy beehive dresses in a crisscross of tiny or medium-sized pleats. He used the same technique for short jackets and open coats worn over a shirtwaist dress in different pink panels.

Morning dresses, very simple with a turtle neck and no sleeves, contrasted with the vaporous line the designer gave his evening dresses.

Pino Lancetti also went in for the silk skirts and shirts or overblouses that look like dresses.

He often hip-pleated skirts except in suits, which mostly were wraparound. Seven-eighth coats in sand yellow, lilac, pale blue and green let the printed silk of his shirtwaist dresses appear.

To keep the sun out of your eyes, Lancetti designed broadbrimmed hats as worn by Marlene Dietrich, overshadowing the face.

For afternoon wear, brims widened and dresses got sexier, with frills and ruffles along the shawl neckline and around the sleeves. Lancetti also offered tiered dresses and drawstring scooped necks for pale blue georgette or lilac evening dresses, embroidered with silk around the sleeves and bodice front.

Lancetti also had a surprise: prints on crepe dresses, featuring statues or women's faces in wide, horizontal bands.

U.S. Flies 400 Air Strikes To Aid South Vietnamese

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes flew more than 400 strikes across South Vietnam Wednesday and today, the U.S. Command announced. It was the second day of heavy air attack and the largest number of strikes in the South in more than two months.

The raids appeared aimed at putting South Vietnamese forces in the best possible military position before a cease-fire agreement is signed.

Many of the strikes were concentrated just below the demilitarized zone, where North Vietnam is claiming a strip of territory 10 miles deep and 40 miles wide that its troops captured during the Communist offensive last year.

The Saigon government wants the demarcation line restored at the 17th parallel, across the middle of the DMZ.

The South Vietnamese command reported heavy fighting in the region just below the DMZ, both to the north and south of Quang Tri City. The command said 77 North Vietnamese troops were killed and 49 weapons were captured, while South Vietnamese losses were 10 men killed and 51 wounded, the command said.

Tobacco Sales Decline

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP) — A total of 81,954 pounds of tobacco brought an average price of $78.57 Wednesday as offerings continued to decline.

Sales continue today, but the market is closed on Fridays.

Three of the U.S. air strikes in the Hiep Due Valley below Da Nang accidentally hit South Vietnamese troops, the U.S. Command said. One South Vietnamese soldier was killed and four were wounded when three Air Force F4 Phantoms each dropped a 500-pound bomb.

A U.S. spokesman said the bombs were directed at an enemy position and were on target but the South Vietnamese troops were too close. He said the strikes were being directed by a South Vietnamese forward air controller.

It was the third accidental bombing in 10 days in the Da Nang region.

The U.S. Command reported 335 fighter-bomber strikes during the 24 hours that ended at 8 a.m. today.

B52 bombers flew 90 strikes, dropping about 2,700 tons of explosives, U.S. officials said. Two thirds of these raids were in the territory below the DMZ and along the Saigon River corridor, an infiltration route 40 to 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Guests Welcome, Pets Aren't

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know how to handle the problem of guests who bring their unwelcome pets when they visit.

My sister and her husband have two obnoxious poodles. They are not trained and are a menace to my children and household furnishings.

I once jokingly hinted, "I can tie our children outside if they get on your dogs' nerves." (No reaction.) These dogs have growled and snapped at our children without provocation, and our little ones are terrified of them.

On their last visit, one of the dogs lifted his leg on my collection of African violets and all my sister said was, "Whoops, Curley had an accident!" (It was no accident. It was deliberate.)

I like animals, Abby, and am not cruel to them, but these poodles are more than I can take.

I love my sister and wouldn't want her to discontinue her visits to me entirely, but how can I handle this?

DOG PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: Quit hinting and joking, and tell your sister you love her, and her visits, but not her dogs! But be sure to place the blame where it belongs. Ill-mannered and untrained

Ohio Well Represented At Inaugural

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio will be represented by a choir, and mounted horsemen as well as other groups, in the parade that follows President Nixon's second inaugural Saturday.

The Sing Angels from Cleveland will ride the float that represents the theme of this year's parade, the Spirit of '76. The singing group is composed of youths ranging in age from 6 to 18.

Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk will lead ten members of his city's mounted police unit.

Thirty motorcyclists from the Cuyahoga County Sheriff's Department will spell out the numerals "76" as they ride down the parade route. The cyclists will be headed by Capt. John Taunt.

The Ohio float, "The Spirit of America," will depict America's first space exploration.

Also participating in the festivities will be the Ohio State University Marching band under the direction of Paul Droste. Another Ohioan, Cmdr. Donald W. Stauffer of Canton, will lead the Navy Band in the parade.

Too Many Airplanes Spoil The Highway

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The police department has told pilots: Please pick another highway for emergency landings.

Police Chief Donald Scott says too many pilots have been using the Great Highway along San Francisco's ocean front as an emergency landing strip.

Actor Lee Majors Plans To Be Wed

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Actor Lee Majors says he may "surprise a few people" and marry in June.

Majors, here to film scenes for the motion picture "Cyborg," says he is engaged to Farrah Fawcett of Los Angeles, a blonde frequently seen in toothpaste and cigar advertisements.

WASHINGTON PTO

The January meeting of the Washington Twp. Parent Teacher Organization was opened by the pledge to the Flag and the invocation given by Elmer Winner.

Mrs. Posey's room won the attendance banner. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. It was announced the organization has purchased some equipment for the school.

The talent show was presented with 12 acts performing. Judges were Mrs Virginia Wood, Mrs. Janie Mallett and Richard Warren. Winners from the third grade were: first place trophy to Lavonna Weaver and Rhonda Van Burskirk for a tap dance routine, second place ribbon to Stephanie Ott for a piano solo, third place ribbon to Andrea Marcum for a piano solo. Fifth grade winners were: First place trophy to Doug Dern for a ventriloquist act, second place ribbon to Kareena Campeau for a reading, third place ribbon to Kim Walker for a piano solo. Sixth grade winners were: first place trophy to William Waidelich for a clarinet solo, second place ribbon to Cheri Tinney for baton routine. All contestants were presented a certificate for participating. Refreshments were served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Gilligan Among Petitioners On Parochial Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gove John Gilligan said Wednesday he and a group of parents had filed an affidavit with the U.S. Supreme Court to allow tax credits to parochial students' parents pending a decision on the constitutionality of the plan.

The plan, allowing a $90 tax credit per year per pupil to parents of parochial school children, was ruled unconstitutional last December by a three-judge federal court panel. The state is appealing the decision to the Supreme Court.

Gilligan said the legislature, in enacting the plan, recognized the "unique problem presented to a special class of citizens...who pay education taxes and incur extra expenses for the education of their children."

Assistant Atty. Gen. Tom Martin said that should the Supreme Court grant the request to allow the credits and then later find the state law to be unconstitutional, the state probably could bet back the credits.

Change Ohio Election, Labor Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Measures to change Ohio election and labor laws were introduced in the General Assembly Wednesday before legislators heard Gov. John Gilligan's state of the state message and recessed until next Tuesday.

Rep. Don Maddux, D-25 Lancaster, offered a bill to allow a person who had moved to vote in his old precinct if he moved within the same county and forgot to change his registration 30 days prior to an election.

A measure introduced by Rep. John Thompson Jr., D-15 Cleveland, would allow a jail inmate serving time for a misdemeanor to cast an absentee ballot.

Six labor reform bills were offered by Rep. Edward Orlett, D-34 Dayton. They would:

—Allow a workmen's compensation disease claim to be appealed to a common pleas court.

—Increase the maximum level of workmen's compensation benefits to two-thirds of the average monthly wage covered.

—Limit the hours a worker can be forced to work to 10 hours a day or 50 hours a week.

—Require that no employee, regardless of sex, be required to lift more than he or she can handle manually.

—Establish $2 an hour as the minimum wage and eliminate reference to sex.

—Make partial hearing loss come under workmen's compensation laws.

Sen. Michael Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, and Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-30 Steubenville, cosponsored a bill allowing additional benefits to the police and firemen's pension fund to be hinged to increases in the consumer price index.

See No Reduction In Forces Abroad

NEW YORK (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson, secretary-designate of Defense, says he does not anticipate any substantial reduction in the number of U.S. servicemen stationed abroad.

Richardson, presently secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Tuesday that withdrawal of combat troops from South Vietnam after a peace settlement would not have a major impact since only 32,000 American servicemen are there.

Water Crisis Grows Worse In Toronto

TORONTO, Ohio (AP)—The water emergency in this Ohio River town of 8,000 worsened today as crewmen ran into difficulties trying to bypass a break in the main water line.

A representative of the Ohio Department of Health, here to survey the situation, ordered all restaurants and bars closed.

Schools, industrial plants, laundries and beauty salons were ordered closed Monday and residents were urged to use water only for drinking and putting out fires.

The city's filtration plant has not been able to pump water into the reservoir since Sunday afternoon because of a break in the 12-inch line.

Water Superintendent George Wise decided to bypass the break because it was in a difficult place to reach, but equipment for the operation was not available until Tuesday.

He said today that crewmen had not been able to complete the bypass because the flanges they received were not made for the old sand cast pipe and workers were having difficulty trying to make them fit.

Wallace Higgins Is Speaker At CS Council

The monthly luncheon meeting of the Pickaway Community Services Council was held Jan. 9 at St. Philips Parish House.

Vice-president Harold Hewitt introduced Wallace Higgins, teacher at Circleville High School, who spoke on the history of Circleville and Pickaway County.

Higgins began with the settling of the Pickaway Plains by the Moundbuilder Indians approximately 2,000 years ago. The first white settlers came to what is now Circleville in 1801 and purchased land within the circular earthworks. When Pickaway County was formed in 1810, it was decided to build a new town, Circleville, as the county seat, with Daniel Dresbach as the first director.

In 1810 there were 40 houses in the town occupied by German and Scotch-Irish Democrats from Virginia and Pennsylvania. The 1830's brought the Ohio Canal, the "squaring of the Circle," and new growth to the town. The Underground Railroad and new industry came in the 1850's and 60's, and Circleville continued to prosper until 1903, the year of the first Pumpkin Show.

Higgins described such colorful characters as Jacob Zieger, Caleb Atwater, and Aunt Lydia Smith, besides telling amusing anecdotes along with the dates and facts. He also mentioned the founding of such institutions as the Children's Home, Circleville Home and Hospital, and Berger Hospital.

Higgins concluded, "The understanding of the past is essential in dealing with the present."

The next meeting will be held Feb. 13.

Panama Meet Japanese Prof Chooses TV Over Students

OKd By U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Security Council has accepted Panama's invitation to meet there in March despite a U.S. contention that the nation's aim is to influence negotiations for a new Panama Canal treaty.

The 15-nation council agreed without a vote late Tuesday to hold the session March 15-21 on Latin American problems in general. It asked its committee of the whole to recommend detailed plans by the end of next week.

Ambassador Aquilino E. Boyd said that, while meeting in Panama City, the council should seek to "eliminate the causes" of Panamanian-U.S. conflict. He said Panama wanted a "genuinely just and equitable" treaty concerning the canal.

Boyd called the Canal Zone a colonialist enclave and said he hoped the council would realize that it was a dangerous and explosive "hotbed of international tension." The United States denied this.

Boyd also complained that "the industrial states" for centuries had dominated the natural wealth of Latin America and still were trying to "maintain a condition of colonial underdevelopment" there. He said the council should "intensify its efforts" to solve Latin American problems linked with colonialism, sovereignty over natural resources, disarmament and denuclearization.

Some diplomats on the sidelines said they expect the Panama City session to produce attacks on the United States not only concerning the canal but also in connection with its Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba, fishing boats in waters claimed by Ecuador and suits by Kennecott Copper to get compensation from Chile for nationalized properties.

U.S. Ambassador George Bush said that, to make a positive contribution, the meeting should "not be conceived as a means for bringing pressure on bilateral issues not currently before the council."

Fear Disastrous Lake Erie Floods

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has warned residents along Ohio's Lake Erie shoreline that they face prospects of the worst flooding in history this spring because of the high level of the lake.

The water level is expected to reach a record of about five feet above normal in late spring, in time for the storms that sweep in over the lake.

Describing the situation as potentially disastrous, Army engineers said Tuesday that flooding could be widespread.

6,263 Cars Recalled By Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Possible defects in steering systems or transmission assemblies have led to the recall of 6,263 Chrysler Corp. passenger cars.

Chrysler said Tuesday that about 10 per cent of the 5,512 recalled 1973 Plymouth Satellites and Dodge Coronets and Chargers are suspected of having lower control arm pivot shafts which may have been heat-treated improperly.

Failure to have the condition corrected could lead to a failure of the pivot shaft and loss of steering control, Chrysler said.

The recall of 751 1973 Plymouth Fury and Dodge Polara and Monaco models involves a possibly badly attached automatic transmission throttle linkage clip on cars equipped with 318 cubic inch V8 engines and automatic transmissions.

The badly attached clip, suspected in 5 per cent of the recalled cars, could let the throttle slip wide open, Chrysler said.

The auto firm said it had received no reports of accidents caused by either problem.

"practice my English."
"The speech on television is a little more clear than real conversation," said Deyama.

The Japanese visitor chose the tube for instruction over the Bowling Green University students he lives with.

"American students, I've found, are rather slovenly in their speech," he said.

Deyama teaches American studies at Aichi Prefectural University at Nagoya, Japan, when he's at home. He's a specialist on Mark Twain and the English language at Aichi.

More than slovenly speech drew the criticism of the Japanese professor. "Americans play catch," he said. "They don't communicate even at parties."

He said he didn't want to appear too critical.

"Students in Japan," said Deyama, "ask questions and want to learn about other cultures. That kind of thing seldom happens here."

Deyama lives in Rodgers Hall, heavily populated by freshmen. The Japanese finds them "self-satisfied and only interested in themselves." He speculated that this might happen because all the freshmen have similar cultural backgrounds.

"I don't like to criticize American students, but they are too naive, too provincial," he said.

Deyama is sharply critical of the current move he has noted on college campuses to drop foreign language requirements for degrees. Students are lobbying for the requirement to be abolished at Bowling Green.

"Americans," he said in some distress, "seem to have lost their interest in other countries since the Sputnik craze."

"We stress languages in Japan because we know it's the surest and shortest way from provinciality and naivete. Americans should be taught more languages. By learning a bit of the language you can feel very friendly. By learning more about other cultures students are required to look closer at themselves."

For the privilege of living in a dormitory with regular students, Deyama teaches a beginning course in Japanese. Twenty students signed up for the non-credit course and Deyama nursed six of them through the entire quarter.

While the hardy half dozen labored to understand Japanese, Deyama struggled with English. Just one of his problems are "L" and "R" sounds, which don't exist in Japanese.

Then there's wordiness.

"You Americans seem to feel the need to explain yourselves all the time, like...you're afraid of being misunderstood," Deyama said.

"In Japan we don't talk so much. We read more into our conversations. We watch expressions more closely. We're better mind readers."

Cultural gap, generation gap — a double-barreled difficulty. Like the freshmen next door who had the walls quivering from their blaring record players.

Twice Deyama, with typical Japanese politeness, had to ask them to cut the volume down.

"In Japan it would be the same way," he shrugged with a smile. "All young people seem to like their music loud."

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed bids will be received on the basis of a price per gallon by the Director of Public Safety of the City of Circleville, Ohio at the office of the Director of Public Safety until 12:00 o'clock noon, January 19th 1973 for furnishing gasoline on an as-if-and-when needed basis for the police cruisers and fire trucks of the City of Circleville, Ohio, for the fiscal year 1973, beginning on January 1, 1973 and ending on December 31, 1973, according to plans and specifications on file in said office which specify regular gasoline for Police Cruisers and Fire Trucks. Acid Leakage Fought By Farmers

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—About a dozen farm families in Columbiana County are worried that industrial acid seepage will ruin their wells, and they save they have been frustrated by state and county officials' apparent inability to solve the problem.

The seepage from an acid disposal pit operated by Chemline Corp. near here also produces foul odors, the families contend.

The firm contends that there is no serious seepage from the pit, a 50-year-old abandoned strip mine where steel mill and other industrial wastes are dumped after being neutralized with lime.

Theoretically, enough lime is supposed to be mixed with each truckload of acid to completely neutralize the waste, with the sludge sealing the pit against seepage.

The five-year-old Chemline operation first erupted in controversy more than a year ago when a large acid spill flowed into a private lake and Little Beaver Creek, killing an estimated 75,000 fish.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife filed a $36,000 damage suit against the company in that incident last year, but the case is still pending.

Chemline officials said the spill came from a pond in a smaller strip mine pit on the back of their property where chemicals escaped from an old spoil bank and not from their disposal operation. They said the company has been treating the smaller pit with lime to kill any pollution.

The farmers in the area contend, however, that the problem continues and that acid still taints the waterways in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley said their farm pond water has become too acid for their cattle and their pony to drink.

Neighbor Ralph Wilson, whose property adjoins the south end of Chemline land, said the 1971 spill killed the fish in his private lake and turned the water red. Wilson also has a $50,000 damage suit pending against the firm.

Harold Thompson, who raises potatoes and cattle on land near the Chemline property, said he figures the acid has cost him $20,000 in lost crops and the cost of hauling water.

"Ever since the spill, we haven't been able to use Little Beaver Creek water to irrigate those fields," he said. "We used to pump a thousand gallons a minute from the creek. Now we have to truck water when the weather is dry."

"We can't use the water for our crops or for our animals," agreed Daniel Saling, a Wayne Township trustee who lives in the area.

Another neighbor, Leonard Daley, lives on higher ground to the west of the Chemline land. Although they are closest of any of the neighbors to the disposal pit, the higher land has saved his family from much trouble with the acid water, Daley said.

"But we suffer from the smell of the acids when the wind blows our way," he said. "And we have the noise and the dust of those big Chemline tank trucks. You know, those trucks run night and day, seven days a week."

A state Environmental Protection Agency official in Columbus said she was aware of the Chemline complaints and said the agency has a thick file on the situation.

She said that "dozens of investigators" have already been on the scene and that the agency would continue to investigate the complaints until the problem was solved.

Chemline contends that it has taken a number of steps intended to prevent pollution and that the complaints are unfounded.

Central Michigan Upends Kent State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
'It was our press that did it,' an elated Central Michigan Coach Dick Parfitt said after his team upended Kent State 71-70 Wednesday night to knock the Golden Flashes out of first place in the Mid-American Conference basketball standings.

Chippewa freshman Dirk Dunbar made a key basket with 55 seconds left in the game to put Central Michigan ahead to stay 69-68.
Dunbar led all scorers with 21 points. Teammates Dan Brownfield and Ben Kelso tossed in 18 and 14 points, respectively.

Marshall devastated Miami 90-70, St. Joseph of Pennsylvania trimmed Bowling Green 61-60 in overtime, Cincinnati defeated Toledo 86-78, and Detroit downed Western Michigan 57-55.
Five Marshall players, paced by Randy Noll with 23 points, scored in double figures as the away-from-home hex continued to plague Miami. The Redskins, 9-4 for the season, haven't won a road game yet.

Junior guard Phil Lumpkin led Miami's offense with 20 points.
St. Joseph edged Bowling Green on Mike Moody's two free throws with two seconds left in the overtime period. Eight seconds earlier the Falcons had a 60-59 lead and possession of the ball, but the visitors stole the ball and Moody was fouled.
St. Joseph's Mike Bantom and the Falcons' Cornelius Cash shared scoring honors with 19 points apiece. Cincinnati broke open a previously tight game by grabbing a 10-point lead early in the second period and held off a late Toledo rally. Derrek Dickey and Lloyd Batts led the Bearcat attack with 21 points each, while Toledo's Tom Kozelko topped all scorers with 23 points.

In other Ohio college basketball action Wednesday night, Louisville squeezed by Dayton 74-73 as Bill Butler netted 20 points and Allen Murphy and Terry Howard added 18 and 14, respectively, to improve its record to 12-2.
Mike Sylvester paced the Flyers with a game-high 26 points. Dayton now is 5-8.
Buffalo outlasted Akron 73-71 in what became a nip-and-tuck battle after the Zips rallied from a 19-point deficit. Len Paul scored 19 points for Akron, now 8-4.

CHS Hosts Hurricane In Key SCOL Tilt

One of the biggest games of the year for the Circleville Tigers will be on tap Friday night at the high school gym when the Wilmington Hurricane comes to Roundtown in a South Central Ohio League clash.
The Tigers, 9-1, are sharing the league lead with Washington C.H., both with 4-1 records, and must stop the Hurricane to hold their spot on top of the ladder.
Wilmington was also sharing the league lead until it ran into an aroused bunch of Indians last week at Hillsboro and suffered a setback that knocked the Hurricane down a rung. Wilmington holds a 3-2 mark in league play and has a 6-4 record on the season.
Circleville downed Wilmington, 61-47, earlier in the season on the Hurricane floor and will be out to make it two straight Friday night. However, the Hurricane is a rapidly improving club and will be out to throw a road-block into the Tigers' title aspirations.
Offensively the Hurricane is, averaging 70.3 points a contest and is giving up 62.9 tallies a game to the opponents.
Wilmington is led by 6-foot-1 senior forward Robert Raizk who is averaging 17.6 points a game, 21.2 in league competition. Tim Wilson, 6-foot-4, 230-pound center, is hitting the nets for a season average of 17.2 markers per contest. Bill McClary, 5-foot-10 junior guard, has been putting 12.0 points a game on the scoreboard.

Rounding out the starting five for the Hurricane will be Brad Halley, 5-foot-9 senior guard and Jeff Early, 6-foot-1 junior forward.
The Tigers will have to contain the fine outside shooting of McClary and Raizk and the inside work and rebounding of Wilson. Wilmington likes to use a man to man defense but will go to a 2-2-1 zone press when needed.
Circleville is the top offensive club in the SCOL with a game average of 73.9 points a game and also top the defensive standings with a meager 53.9 average.
Dave Truex leads the Tiger scorers with 17.8 per contest, Dan Graham is hitting the cords at a 16.6 pace and Greg Hoskins carries a 14.9 average into the fray.
The starting lineup for Coach John Lawhorn's Tigers will be: Truex, 6-foot senior, and Hoskins, 6-foot-1 senior, at the forwards, Graham, 6-foot-2 senior, at center and Doug Radabaugh, 5-foot-9 junior, and Glen Gillespie, 5-foot-10 senior, at the guards.
Red and Black bench strength will come from Robin Martin, 5-foot-10 junior, Kris Kline, 6-foot-2 junior, and John Ankrom, 6-foot junior. Depth and poise have been Tiger strong points this year as the Red and Black cagers are off to one of the best starts in Circleville basketball history.
Other SCOL action Friday night will

Mike McCormack Set To Patch Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Big Mike McCormack has a big job in trying to make a winner of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles.
The 6-foot-4, 265-pound former Washington Redskins assistant signed a three-year contract Wednesday as head coach of the Eagles, a team that hasn't had a winning record since 1966.
The Eagles of 1972 were next-to-last foth offensively and defensively in the NFL's National Conference. The team finished last in the East with a 2-11-1 record, setting league record lows for total points (145) touchdowns (12), and average points per game (10.2). The team scored only two touchdowns rushing (one on a quarterback sneak), failed to win at home, and slipped from 32 quarterback sacks in 1971 to 16.
If that isn't enough for McCormack to contemplate, the Eagles suffered their worst defeat in the 39-year history of the team, a 62-10 drubbing by the New York Giants, a game in which fired coach Ed Khayat said the players quit.
Is McCormack apprehensive?
'I expect to win next season,' said the husky former Cleveland Browns tackle, who made the Pro Bowl squad six times while clearing the way for former NFL great Jim Brown. 'I'm an eternal optimist,' McCormack told his first news conference as Eagles' head man.
McCormack said he has the authority to run the Eagles' football operation, make trades, final say on the draft, anything connected with player personnel. He said he will ask for advice, but the final say is his.

Wounded Canadiens Rip Penguins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pity the poor Montreal Canadiens, struck down by a series of injuries that has their dressing room looking like a hospital ward.
All-Stars Ken Dryden, out with a bad back, and Yvan Cournoyer, nursing an abdominal injury, were out of action for Wednesday night's National Hockey League test against Pittsburgh. And at least a half dozen other Montreal players including captain Henri Richard, were bothered by a variety of other ailments.
So naturally, playing in that weakened condition, Montreal only rallied for three third-period goals to knock off the Penguins 6-4.
Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday night, Chicago staged a similar rally to overtake Detroit 6-4, Atlanta tied St. Louis 3-3, Los Angeles tied the New York Rangers 4-4 and California skated to a 3-3 tie against Toronto.
In the World Hockey Association, it was New England 4, Chicago 2, and Cleveland 5, Houston 0.
The Canadiens inserted Rejean Houle to replace Cournoyer and he responded with three goals for the first hat trick of his NHL career. The three goals gave him eight for the season.

Olga Korbut Named Top Girl Athlete

NEW YORK (AP) — Olga Korbut, the spirited sprite of the Soviet gymnastics team at the 1972 Summer Games, is The Associated Press Female Athlete of the Year.
Miss Korbut, winner of three gold medals and a silver medal at the Munich Olympics, outpolled American tennis rebel Billie Jean King, reigning queen of the courts, 222 to 202 in balloting by sportswriters and broadcasters released Wednesday. Olympic swimmer Shane Gould of Australia was third with 118 votes.
The Olympic heroine, virtually unknown before the Munich Games, was hailed at the close of competition as being on the horizon of historic greatness.
'Olga is going places,' said United States gymnast Cathy Rigby. 'Undoubtedly she's their protege.'
But there now is speculation that the 84-pound, 4-foot-11 acrobat may never compete again. Miss Korbut suffered a back injury during a December workout and was reported recuperating at a health resort in the Caucasian Republic of Tskhaltubo.
Official Soviet sources said she was unavailable to discuss her injury or comment on being the first Iron Curtain athlete to receive the AP award since it was initiated in 1931.
Joe Morgan Named Top Reds Newcomer

Sam Houston State Takes Lead In College Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unbeaten Sam Houston State rocketed to the top of the college division basketball poll in a free-for-all that left only one team untouched.
In Associated Press balloting released today, Sam Houston State, which ran its record to 12-0 with three triumphs last week, received five first-place votes and 266 points. Stephen F. Austin, despite a 3-0 week for a 13-1 record, dropped to No. 2 with six first-place votes and 238 points.
Eau Claire, 9-1 after beating Eastern Michigan, held on to the No. 3 spot, but Louisiana Tech, No. 2 last week, slipped into the No. 4 slot previously filled by Sam Houston. Tech beat Arkansas State but lost a squeaker to McNeese State for a 10-3 season mark.
Augustana, Ill., 13-1, moved up one notch to fifth while 6-0 Assumption, idle for the second straight week, vaulted to No. 6 from tenth.
Roanoke, which had a 2-1 week for a 9-3 season, slipped from fifth into a seventh-place tie with Capital. The 11-1 Ohio school moved up from eighth with two triumphs last week.
Kentucky State, 12-1, alone in No. 7 last week, was knocked down a notch.

Jeff Chandler Signed By Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have signed lefthand pitcher Jeff Chandler, their first choice in the secondary phase of the major league baseball free agent draft.
Chandler, 18, comes from Davis, Calif. and will be assigned to the Reds' Bradenton, Fla. farm club.

No. 10 went to 10-0 Ferris State of Michigan.
Akron, which was ninth last week, was dropped from the Top Ten after bowing to Western Illinois for the third loss in 11 starts.
In addition to the multiple first-place balloting for topranked Sam Houston and runner-up Stephen F. Austin, Assumption and Louisiana Tech received one top vote each, as did two unranked teams—Fairmont State and Willamette.
The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-6-4-2:
1.Sam Houston (5) 12-0266 2.S.F. Austin (6) 13-1238 3.Eau Claire 9-1154 4.Louisiana Tech 10-3136 5.Augustana, Ill. 13-1128 6.Assumption (1) 6-0108 7.Capital Ohio 11-188 Roanoke 9-388 9. Kentucky St. 12-184 10. Ferris St., 10-026.

St. John's Rips Clemson, 87-59

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Long before the Clemson Tigers' basketball team came to New York, Frank Mulzoff had their number.
'We had them scouted and saw them destroyed by a pressing defense,' said the coach of 17th-ranked St. John's.
Guess what the Redmen used Wednesday night to destroy Clemson 87-59?
'Sure, it was no surprise that we would do it,' said Mulzoff, whose club broke open a onepoint game with a 58-point explosion in the second half.
Leading only 29-28 at intermission, St. John's outscored the Atlantic Coast Conference visitors by 27 points in the second half as the Tigers turned to lambs. Bill Schaeffer led the slaughter, pitching in 14 of his game-high 21 points in the second period.
St. John's was one of five ranked teams in action Wednesday night. In the other games, fourth-ranked North Carolina romped to a 99-80 victory over Wake Forest; No. 18 Vanderbilt scored a 59-49 victory over Mississippi; 19th-ranked Florida State trimmed Stetson 84-67 and 20th-ranked Louisville nipped Dayton 74-73.
Elsewhere, St. Joseph's Pa. beat Bowling Green 61-60 in overtime; Penn turned back Villanova 77-69; Marshall swamped Miami of Ohio 90-70; Harvard trimmed Dartmouth 90-83; Fordham slammed Seton Hall 96-78; Brigham Young posted a 93-83 decision over Niagara; American University topped Navy 73-62 and Notre Dame beat Pittsburgh 85-76 in overtime.

Freshman Mitch Kupchak led a second-half burst as North Carolina buried ACC colleague Wake Forest. Leading only 42-36 at the half, the Tar Heels charged away from the Deacons behind Kupchak, who scored 24 points overall. Wake Forest's Tony Byers led all scorers with 30 points.
Bill Ligon helped Vanderbilt beat Mississippi with a 21-point night. Ole Miss failed to score a point in the final seven minutes in the Southeastern Conference game. Coolidge Ball and Dean Hudson led the losers with 14 points each.
Freshman Greg Grady came off the bench late in the first half to spark Florida State. Stetson led by 10 points before Grady came into the game and reeled off seven straight points. He turned from point-maker to shot-blocker at the start of the second half, helping shoot the Seminoles into a runaway lead.
Bill Butler scored 20 points, Allen Murphy, 18 and Terry Howard, 14 to lead Louisville over Dayton.

Golden State Tops Houston, 123-117

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rick Barry came up with a sore shooting arm Wednesday night, so he only scored 51 points as Golden State defeated Houston 123-117 in National Basketball Association play.
Barry poured in 34 points in the first half for the Warriors, but his right arm stiffened during the intermission and he had a cold third quarter. His 51 points—which included 24 field goals—set a record for the San Antonio Convention Center Arena, where the Rockets are playing a number of their home games.
It also was Barry's highest scoring total since returning to the NBA after playing the past four seasons in the American Basketball Association.
Nate Thurmond, the Warriors' center who is acting as player-coach while Al Attles is out with the flu, scored 27 points and hauled in 18 rebounds.
Houston had seven players scoring in double figures, led by Don Smith with 21 points.

In other NBA games, Seattle edged Detroit 106-104, Boston whipped Portland 117-99 and Atlanta topped Philadelphia 122-105.
In ABA action, the New York Nets defeated Denver 102-92 and Utah tripped Kentucky 117-104.
Seattle's John Brisker and Spencer Haywood had themselves a happy homecoming.
Brisker, a Detroit schoolboy, sank a pair of free throws with six seconds left as the SuperSonics nipped the Pistons. Haywood, who played at the University of Detroit before jumping to the American Basketball Association and then on to the Sonics, scored 18 points.
Brisker had 21 and Dick Snyder added 18 as Seattle registered its third victory in its last four games for new Sonics Coach Morris Buckwalter, who replaced Tom Nissalke one week ago.
Dave Cowens tossed in 35 points and grabbed 20 rebounds as the Celtics

Pick Shorter As Nation's Top Athlete

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Frank Shorter decided to take up long distance running two years ago in an effort to make the Olympic team, and the decision resulted in him being presented the Sullivan Award Wednesday as the nation's outstanding amateur athlete of 1972.
Shorter, 25, who prepared for his winning effort in the 26-mile Olympic marathon race by jogging with his wife, Louise, polled 1,895 points from 1,500 voters in the Amateur Athletic Union voting.
Second in the balloting was Olympic gold medal freestyle wrestler Dan Gable of Waterloo, Iowa, with 1,577 points.
Swimmer Mark Spitz, the 1971 Sullivan Award winner who claimed seven gold medals in the 1972 Olympics, was ineligible for the award because of a no-repeat rule.
Gold medal woman diver Micki King of Hermosa Beach, Calif., was third in the vote with 1,104 points, followed by gold medal swimmer Michael Burton of Sacramento, Calif., with 1,012 points and track medalist Dave Wottle of Canton, Ohio, with 708 points.

for Boston, while Geoff Petrie was high man for Portland with 20.
Philadelphia led 91-89 going at the start of the fourth quarter, but Atlanta then reeled off nine straight points and was not in trouble again.
Rookie guard Brian Taylor scored 25 points and forward George Carter added 21 for the Nets, who held a 90-67 lead with 6:45 to go and then coasted home.
Ron Boone scored 32 points as Utah overcame a 14-point deficit and went on to beat the Colonels.

Wheelchair Cage Benefit Scheduled

The Pickaway County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults will sponsor a Wheelchair Basketball game February 24, at 8 p.m. in the Circleville Junior High School gymnasium.
The contest will be held between teams from Cincinnati and Columbus. Both teams have only handicapped, experienced, wheelchair players who travel over the country in competition with other wheelchair teams. The Cincinnati team is undefeated and will participate in the National Wheelchair Tournament held in March. According to Richard E. Plum, general chairman for the scheduled Easter Seal sponsored game, "this will be a first such event held in Pickaway County; it should be a worthwhile, exciting evening."
Tickets will be available at a later date. All proceeds from the event will go toward the 1973 Easter Seal Campaign which opens March 1, through April 22.
Mrs. Robert Daub and Mrs. Manley Carothers will be in charge of tickets; Mrs. Richard Warren, hospitality and refreshments; Mrs. Montford Kirkwood, programs; Mrs. Robert Ely and Mrs. Rex E. Wood, publicity.

Winery Uses Shredded Cash To Help Control Erosion

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP)—Meier's Wine Cellars, Inc., has added a new ingredient to their product—money, bales and bales of it.
The firm is using bales of shredded money to shore up an erosion problem at vineyards here.
Henry Sonneman, president of the firm, said he got the idea during a recent tour of the Cincinnati branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.
The branch office operates a huge money shredder and compresor in which worn out bills and food stamps are packaged into bales, measuring two feet square and about four feet long.

They weigh about 70 pounds each and Sonneman thought they may be a perfect solution for the vineyard.
The bank, which is looking for a way to dispose of the bales, agreed.
"Sonneman had his chemists test to see if the ink from the money could be damaging to the soil," said Robert Duggan, vice president of the bank branch.
"They found there was no danger."
So far, Meier's has used 600 bales. The winery only pays $1 per bale for transportation.
Sonneman estimated it will take several thousand bales to cover some 600 acres of erosion-plagued vineyards.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Weather Service's summary of Ohio weather:
Another mild day is shaping up for Ohio. Southerly winds continue to bring unseasonably warm air northward over the state. During the night most temperatures were in the 40s. Early morning readings ranged from 46 at Toledo and Cleveland to 32 degrees at Marietta.
High pressure has moved into the Atlantic off the Carolina coast. On this morning's weather charts a low pressure system extends from Minnesota to Texas. The cold front in the low pressure area is moving eastward and will probably reach western Ohio Friday morning and move eastward across the state during the day.
Showers will spread into western Ohio tonight ahead of the front and reach the eastern counties before daybreak. Showery weather will continue into Friday as the front moves through.
High temperatures will climb into the upper 50s and lower 60s again today with cloudiness thickening gradually over the state. Mild weather will persist into Friday with only slightly lower temperatures as the front goes through.

as beautiful to buy as to trade

CHEVROLET

America's #1 best selling automobile is even more enticing for '73. Everything points to the continuing resale value tradition Impala has established over the years. When you buy better, you trade better. Especially right now!

You won't find a better way to see the U.S.A.

Young Men Encouraged To Join Local Jaycees

The Circleville Jaycees use National Jaycee week Jan. 15-20 to encourage young men of the Circleville area to join them in their efforts for a better community and a better life in the community, according to Larry Eveland, president of the local chapter.

The Jaycees offer five points of interest to the young man, 18 to 35 years of age, Eveland states.

1. Self improvement — Through the years, Jaycee leadership training has guided thousands of young men into better jobs and more secure social lives. Jaycees gain experience in public speaking, organizing their thoughts more effectively, expressing them more confidently. They learn to organize work, making more effective use of time, on the job and off. They learn to work with people.

2. Career Advancement — Being a Jaycee implies one is ambitious and enthusiastic, ready to tackle any job, assume any responsibility. Jaycees assume responsibilities usually entrusted to older, more experienced men. When advancement opportunities come, Jaycees will be ready for them.

3. Community recognition — In Jaycee activities, members become known to civic and business leaders. Members work with other groups and leading citizens in a variety of prestige projects — working with today's leaders for a better future.

4. Service — Work in the Jaycees will make the member a valued citizen because of contributions in service, working to help youth, the needy, and the neglected, working for a community that is more than just a place to live or to earn a living.

5. Friendship — In the Jaycees, the new member becomes a part of the sharpest group of young men in town. And no matter where he might be transferred, there is a Jaycee club nearby, a ready-made circle of friends, men who believe in taking action to improve the world around them.

"Contact a Circleville Jaycee today to see what you can do for the Jaycees and what the Jaycees can do for you," Eveland says.

Gifford Promoted By Du Pont

ARTHUR R. GIFFORD

Arthur R. Gifford, Route 2, was recently promoted to shift supervisor in Mylar manufacturing at the Circleville DuPont plant.

Gifford started with the company September, 1959, as an operator in manufacturing. In January, 1956, he was promoted to foreman in manufacturing.

A veteran of the United States Army, Gifford attended Ohio State University.

BancOhio Reports Earning Increase

Philip F. Searle, president of BancOhio Corporation, today announced that consolidated income before securities gains and losses rose to $17,744,189 in 1972 as compared to $14,917,047 in 1971. This represents an earnings increase of 18.6 per cent to $2.68 per average common share in 1972 from $2.26 in 1971, based upon the average shares outstanding in each year which were 6,633,628 in 1972 and 6,603,231 in 1971.

Consolidated net income after securities gains and losses was $18,745,914 in 1972 or $2.83 per average outstanding common share as compared with $17,759,848 in 1971 or $2.69 per share, or a per share increase of 5.2 per cent.

An all-time high in total consolidated assets for BancOhio Corporation was recorded on December 31, 1972 at $2,531,760,067. Total consolidated deposits for the BancOhio affiliated banks rose 13.1 per cent to $2,151,180,926 in 1972 from $1,902,625,167 in 1971, while total loans increased 21.4 per cent to $1,174,673,970 in 1972. Total shareholders' equity of BancOhio Corporation from December 31, 1971 to December 31, 1972 increased $12,233,296 from $157,919,904 to $170,153,200.

The Board of Directors of BancOhio Corporation declared a quarterly cash dividend of twenty-five cents per common share payable March 15, 1973 to shareholders of record March 1, 1973.

The affiliations of The Niles Bank Company, The Central National Bank at Cambridge, and The Ohio Savings and Trust Company, New Philadelphia, during 1972 have been accounted for as poolings of interests and accordingly the financial statements have been restated for both years. Also in 1972, a new national bank, Community National Bank (now Citizensbank, NA), Loveland, began operation as an affiliate of BancOhio Corporation.

By December 31, 1972 BancOhio reported 32 affiliated banks operating 151 banking offices in 31 Ohio counties, remaining the largest multi-bank holding company in Ohio. Contributing to the recognition of BancOhio as a national leader was the incorporation of Ohio BancLease, Inc., the first bank-related activity for BancOhio, in March 1972.

The Second National Bank of Circleville is an affiliate of BancOhio Corporation.
